US-LISTED TRIMBLE AND FOUNDING MANAGEMENT SELL BIM SPECIALIST CONSTRUSOFT TO GREEN PARK

Amsterdam, 27 November 2023 – Green Park acquires Construsoft from founders Jan Fennema and Eric Vanmechelen and minority shareholder Trimble. Fennema and Vanmechelen stay onboard as CEO and CTO respectively and reinvest together with Green Park. Others involved in the transaction are various local managers that sell their stakes in local subsidiaries around the world to also reinvest in at group level.

Green Park expects sharp growth in the global market for specialized construction software. Wim Vernaeye, partner at Green Park states: "Better software eliminates expensive errors at an early stage. Tekla Structures makes it possible to create building models with the precision and reliability essential for seamless execution." While Tekla and other software products from Trimble will remain at the core of Construsoft's solutions, the company aims to broaden and diversify the range of software solutions on offer. With the acquisition, Green Park intends to foster the professional development and growth of Construsoft, aiming to increase the company's turnover to 50 million euros.

SHORT PROFILE CONSTRUSOFT
